Coach Thompson

Thompson is a Lancaster County Native and a member of the 2016 Manheim Central Hall of Fame Class. He graduated from Bloomsburg University and was named First Team All-PSAC Quarterback. Thompson was recently employed by the XFL—New York Guardians, where he worked closely under Super Bowl winning Coach, Kevin Gilbride. During this time, he was also selected to be a part of the NFL's Coaching Internship program with the Chicago Bears. Prior to the NFL and XFL, Thompson was with the Atlanta Legends in the Alliance of American Football (2019). His background has also been in Arena football, where he served as an offensive coordinator and director of football operations for the Albany Empire of the Arena Football League (2018) and as a head coach and assistant general manager of the Lehigh Valley Steelhawks (2011-2017). Under his guidance he led the Steelhawks to six straight playoff appearances, 5-straight winning seasons, and a trip to the National League Championship in 2014. He was also named the National Arena League coach of the year in 2017. The accomplished coach was also selected 6-times to Head Coach in the annual college football all-star game for the FCS (Football Championship Subdivision) Bowl, 2012-2017.
